Banque Delubac & Cie, the first French bank authorised to offer a crypto-asset service

Banque Delubac & Cie has obtained its registration as a DASP (Digital Assets Service Provider) with the AMF (Financial Markets Authority) and the ACPR (French Prudential Supervision and Resolution Authority). It is about to officially launch its offer for the purchase, sale and custody of crypto-assets for institutions, businesses and individuals.

Banque Delubac & Cie therefore becomes the first French bank to offer this type of service.

The offer will be aimed primarily at companies wishing to invest part of their cash in crypto-assets, at institutions wishing to offer a secure digital asset custody service for their clients and finally, at individuals wishing to buy, sell and hold crypto-assets. The service offered by the Delubac & Cie bank will make it possible to invest in crypto-assets with the highest possible level of security.

Each client portfolio will correspond to a separate private key; under no circumstances will client assets be pooled.

Initially, the first three digital assets offered will be Bitcoin, Ethereum and Tezos. This offer will make it possible to invest in digitised or tokenised real assets as well as NFTs (Non-Fungible Token) and to have access to staking. Other digital assets will be made available to clients based on demand.

Banque Delubac & Cie is the first French bank registered as a Digital Asset Service Provider¹.

About Banque Delubac & Cie

Created in 1924, Banque Delubac & Cie is an independent financial institution offering specialised banking and financial services. With over 300 employees, it is present in France on 12 sites, including the historic head office located in Ardèche. Banque Delubac & Cie has been constantly reinventing itself for nearly a century. Bold in its development strategies, it has chosen to focus on niche activities with high added value. This strategic positioning has enabled it from the outset to stand out from generalist banks. Its motto, "Expertise and Independence", illustrates its DNA: independence, specialised activities and bespoke services.
